

ALUMNI PANEL

Sheila Bapat is an attorney and writer covering economic and gender justice. Her work has appeared in Jacobin, Salon, Reuters, Slate, Alternet, Truthout, the University of Pennsylvania Journal of Labor and Employment Law, PolicyMatters, and the Center for Women Policy Studies' series, "Reproductive Laws for the 21st Century." Her book about the US domestic workers' movement is forthcoming in 2014, from Ig Publishing. Sheila holds a JD from the University of Pennsylvania School of Law and a BA in Political Science from the University of Arizona.

Two Session Times Offered:

Thursday, November 7th, 2013

2:00-3:15PM @ Henry Koffler Building 204

&

3:30-4:45PM @ Social Sciences 100

David Bradshaw, a Tucson native, earned a BS in Public Management and Policy in 2010 and an MPA with a concentration in Environment and Natural Resource Policy in 2012. After graduation he worked for the City of Tucson Office of Conservation and Sustainable Development's Green Business Certification Program. He then became a program coordinator for the UA Office of Sustainability managing projects relating to institutional planning, engagement and sustainability ratings and rankings. He enjoys running, playing sports, and playing saxophone.

Nicole Mansker earned a BA in Political Science from the University of Arizona in 2005, where she graduated summa cum laude and Honors. She received her law degree in 2010 from the College of William and Mary Marshall-Wythe School of Law, in Williamsburg, Virginia. After law school, she spent two years serving as a law clerk to the Honorable Christopher C. Conner, United States District Judge for the Middle District of Pennsylvania. She is currently a litigation associate in the Washington, D.C. office of Wilmer Cutler Pickering Hale and Dorr LLP. She has also coauthored two articles on judicial elections and popular constitutionalism.

Cami Diamond earned her BS degree in Public Administration, Health and Human Services. After graduation she accepted a full time marketing position with the transplant program at the UA Medical Center. During her last 4 years with UAMC, Cami went from covering all aspects of marketing for the comprehensive transplant program to being the physician liaison for surgery and now covers all departments, divisions and programs within the network. Cami also created a non-clinical internship program in the UAMC network to give opportunity for undergraduate students that have an interest in learning about healthcare without direct patient interaction.

Jennifer Pegnato-Hill graduated with a BS in Public Administration, Criminal Justice Emphasis in 1999 and received a Master's in Public Administration in 2006. She has been a member of the Tucson Police Department since 1999. In July 2008, she was promoted to the rank of sergeant. In April 2013, she was assigned to the Dependent Child Unit as the Investigative Supervisor. She is an adjunct instructor for the School of Government and Public Policy. She is also the wife of a Tucson Police Department detective, the mother of three boys, and has been heavily involved in the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society's Light the Night campaign since 2003.

Andrew Escoto received his BA in Political Science in 2009. He is a Project Manager for the UA Office of University Relations, where he is responsible for managing the production of university initiatives and programs. He previously worked as the Community Affairs Manager in the Office of Governor Brewer. He has over three years experience with the Arizona Legislature and state government including work with the AZ Department of Homeland Security, the AZ Department of Corrections, and the Governor's Office of Boards and Commissions.

Mike Sistik earned his BA in Political Science and a minor in History in 2008. He was hired as the Field Director for the Tim Bee for Congress campaign in Southern Arizona. He briefly worked for the Arizona Diamondbacks before joining Senator John McCain's 2010 re-election team as the Field Director. He moved to Washington, DC where he was appointed to Senator McCain's staff at the Senate Armed Services Committee. In July 2012 he joined the Mitt Romney Presidential campaign as the Political Director for Michigan. In 2013 he accepted a position as the Government Affairs Director for the Flagstaff Chamber of Commerce.